ANTICIPATE BUT FOUR DAYS' MINE SUSPENSION

Miners of District to Vote on Wage Scale Wednesday

50,000 MEN AFFECTED

Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company Employs Most

Miners of the Pittsburg district will probably return to work on Thursday after a three days' suspension due to some delay in getting matters adjusted relative to the new wage scale. On Wednesday mine workers of the district will reconvene at Pittsburg, when a referendum vote will be received on the wage scale proposed by the scale committee last week at Cleveland. There is no doubt but that the scale which calls for a five per cent advance will be adopted.

Approximately 50,000 miners in the district are idle today pending the wage adjustment. They are classified as follows:

Employes of Pittsburg Coal Company, 18,000; Pittsburg-Buffalo Company, 4,000; Vesta Coal Company, 3,000; Carnegie Coal Company, 2,000; Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, 15,000; Pittsburg and Westmoreland Coal Company, 5,000; other companies 3,000.

President Feehan said: "The advance in wages means $1 a ton for mining coal in the Pittsburg district. Drivers and other skilled workers get an increase from $2.70 to $2.84 a day. Corresponding increases are granted all other classes of labor. Such a settlement was a great surprise to us. We thought the best that could be hoped for was a reaffirmation of the present wage scale."

The suspension will provide a rest for the miners, who have been working steadily for many weeks with no let up. According to Presidenet Feehan the referendum vote will be a mere formality, indications being that the new agreement will be adopted almost unanimously.

In the Monongahela valley there are between 5,000 and 8,000 men who are affected by the increase.

MINERS CELEBRATE EIGHT-HOUR DAY

Miners along the valley are celebrating quietly the eight hour day today. Only at Brownsville is there any formal celebration and miners of various places have asembled there for the day.

Early this morning from up river and down river miners began to arrive in Charleroi. There was no celebration arranged for this town, but it seems to be a favorite gathering place. The miners are happy over the advance of five per cent in wages offered them.

Four Cars Derailed.

Four coal cars were derailed at Eighth street Saturday noon, it is said at the switching point. The north bound track was tied up for a while, but the trouble did not interfere much with traffic. It took about four hours to get the track in shape.

Feehan is Re-elected

Unofficial Announcement Made of Return to Chair of District Leader

Unofficially, it has been announced that President Francis Feehan has been elected to the presidency of the Pittsburg district, United Mine Workers. The district mine workers began their convention Saturday, and will take up the convention work again on Wednesday. Michael Halapy is the only opponent to Feehan in the district, and though it was claimed he carried well throughout the district, it is asserted that he lacks sufficient votes to elect. Van Bittner has been re-elected vice president and Robert Wood of Blythedale elected secretary-treasurer, defeating "Tim" Donovan of Hazzard.

ARRANGE SERVICES FOR WEEK

Churches to Especially Observe Anniversary Events

SOLEMN CEREMONIES

Solemn services will be held various days of this week throughout a number of the churches, commemorative of the events leading up to the death and resurrection of the Savior. Sunday was celebrated generally as Palm Sunday and particularly in the Catholic churches were held elaborate services. Palm branches were distributed and the passion was read.

Thursday, which is known as Maundy Thursday in the church calendar, preceding the day on which Christ gave up his life, there will be services at St. Jerome's Catholic church. Maundy or Holy Thursday commemorates the institution of the blessed sacrament. High mass will be solemnized at 8 o'clock. A part of the ceremony will be the procession to the altar. On this day two particles or hosts will be consecrated one of which will be placed in the Altar of Repository and used at the services on Good Friday morning. The entire day will be given over to solemn observances and at 8 o'clock there will be a sermon in the church.

Good Friday, which marks the anniversary of the Saviour's death on the cross will be celebrated by the mass of the presantctified. On Good Friday it is the custom in all the Catholic churches to publicly pray for all people, because it was on this day that Christ died for all. The unveiling of the cross and adoration by the people will also be a ceremony.

Holy Saturday morning at 7 o'clock will occur the blessing of the Paschal candle and the blessing of the Baptismal Water typifying the

WARRANT SHOULD READ JUNE, NOT JULY

Mistake Discovered in New School Code--State Superintendent Schaeffer Sends Out Notification

The school board of Charleroi and other towns and cities have been notified by State Superintendent Nathan C. Schaeffer that the warrant given to the collectors of taxes should read that settlement must be made the first day of June instead of July, as is printed in the new school code. The error in the printing of the code was discovered by G. Hay Kain, attorney for the School Board of York.

The new legislation requires that in every district of the second, third, and fourth class of this commonwealth the collector of school taxes, shall fully account for and pay over to the treasurer of the school boards the total amount of taxes appearing upon the duplicates furnished to him on or before the first day of June in each year, less such amount as he may be exonerated from by the directors and also less such amount of unpaid taxes as is assessed and levied upon real property in said school district upon which is no personal property out of which such school taxes might have been or could have been collected.

DEATH TAKES COL. A. H. ANDERSON

Popular Soldier and Business Man Summoned After Month's Couragous Battle With Ravaging Disease

Col. A. H. Anderson.

Col. Alexander Hopkins Anderson, aged 45, a member of Gov. J. K. Tener's staff, and one of the best known men of Washington county died at his home at Anderson Saturday night at 10:30 o'clock after a month's illness. His illness started with inflammatory rheumatism and later pneumonia and other complications developed. It was thought he had pased the critical period and was on his way to recovery. Saturday night his heart gave way and physicians were unable to revive him from the tiring strain. The funeral is being held this afternoon at the late home. Full military honors will be paid to the late veteran. The firing squad of Company H. Tenth Regiment will attend. County officials and friends of the dead officer will be present. Many are in attendance from Charleroi, where "Hop" was decidedly popular. Interment will be in the Finleyville cemetery.

Word was received from Harrisburg last night that Governor John K. Tener would be unable to be present at the funeral of Col. Anderson. Memebers of his staff will attend however.

A. Hopkins Anderson was the son of Dr. D. M. Anderson, of Anderson, who was at various periods a gold miner of California, a flour mill manager in Chili, assistant surgeon in the 12th regiment troopers, United States army during the Civil war, coal operator, Legislator and farmer. A. H. Anderson reveived his common school education at a country school, later took a four year course in Trinity Hall, Washington, and then entered Trinity college, Hartford, where he graduated with the degree of master of arts. Studying law in a Pittsburg law office and taking a course at the Columbia Law school, New York city, he began the practice of law in Pittsburg.

In 1898 Mr. Anderson joined the recruits of the famous Tenth regiment for the Philippine campaign. Under Col. James E. Barnett he was in the San Francisco and Honolulu camps, and joined the command at Manila.

Though his health was badly affected by the climate and he lost 70 pounds in weight, he remained right on the firing line until the regiment was relieved after the Malolos campaign. His popularity with the soldier boys was evidenced by his election a year ago to the place of commander-in-chief of the Army of the Philppines, the only instance where such an honor has been conferred on a private. In addition to this Mr. Anderson was a member of the Sons of the American Revolution of the Loyol Legion, the Sons of Veterans, the Army of the Cumberland of Camp Hunt and McKinley Post, American Veterans of Foreign Service.

In a business way he organized and was president of the First National bank of Finleyville, and was also president of the First National bank of Castle Shannon and of the Castle Shannon Savings and Trust company. His wide business experience, his knowledge of the value of investments, his legal training and financial connections made him desirable as a member of corporate boards, and he held many such positions. He was president of the Record Publishing company, which publishes the Washington Record.

He was, like his father, actively interested in politics, first in local primaries, then in the county convention and as a member of the county committee, and later in state wide affairs. In 1906, when he was a candidate for the state senate in the Washington-Greene county district, and the conferees were divided and the matter went to the state committe, and W. S. Parker, of Washington, as referee, voted for D. S. Walton of Greene county, Mr. Anderson remained loyal to the ticket and worked forit. Again in 1910 Mr. Anderson sought the same office and secured the nomination over John W. Hallam, of Washington a widely known contractor. The Democratic and Keystone parties combined on J. Carter Judson, a Washington attorney and he won out by the small plurality of 92 votes in the district.

Mr. Anderson possessed a fine library and devoted considerable time to study and research. Few outside his close friends knew he found pleasure in linguistic studies and that he enjoyed the diversions of reading the New Testment in the original Greek and in comparing that original with the translations into German, French Spanish and Italian.

MINER IS HELD UP AND SHOT

Thugs Waylay John Kotzer at Meadowlands--No Clue

VICTIM IN HOSPITAL

John Kotzer, a prominent miner of Arden, was held up and shot by two masked men on the road leading from Meadowlands to Manifold Saturday night about 12 o'clock. He is now lying at the point of death in the hospital at Washington.

At the time of the holdup, Kotzer, who is checkweighman at the Arden mine, was driving two brothers named Fagin to their home at Manifold in a buggy. At a lonely point on the road two masked men jumped up in front of the buggy, sized the horse's head and demanded that the occupants hold up their hands. They began firing, and Kotzer was shot through the chest. The Fagin brothers leaped from the buggy and made their escape to their home at Manifold.

For some reason the highwaymen did not attempt to rob their victim, who bleeding and badly wounded, remained in the buggy and the horse walked on and stopped at some miners' house, further on where Kotzer was cared for and later sent to the Washington hospital. An alarm was given and search is being made for the bandits.

NEW MEETING PLACE FOR THE CHORAL CLUB

Owing to a congregational meeting at the First Presbyterian church, a change was made necessary in the place for holding the weekly rehearsal tonight of the Charleroi Choral Club. The rehearsal will be held at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church at the usual hour. The effort to get additional singers is still being continued.

Gov. J. K. Tener Declares War on Baseball Gambling

IS FAMILIAR CONDITION

Practise Growing Throughout State to Alarming Extent--May Urge New Laws

Pool selling and betting generally on baseball will be stopped in Pennsylvania if the influence of the State administration upon county and local authorities can bring it about. Gov. John K. Tener, himself a former professional baseball player and one of the most ardent fans in the State, has declared war on baseball pools.

Gov. Tener thinks that the State laws offer ample authority for the suppression of betting if officials will only act as strictly as do the officials inside of baseball grounds. If they do not the Governor will urge the passage of a bill to remedy any defects to be found in the statutes and to make stringent penalties apply to pool selling on baseball. He is of the opinion that one thing which tends to bring racing into disrepute is betting and pool selling, and if he can help it he is not going to allow the national game to suffer in the same way.

It is the belief of the Governor, who in the very first months of his administration, drove from his office men who came to sound him about the chances of getting through racing and pool selling bills during his term of office, that gambling on games, scores or innings should be discouraged by true lovers of the game and that officials should lend the aid of the law.

Baseball men over the country, including officials of the Pittsburg baseball club, were much pleased when they learned that Gov Tener had declared war upon pools. Charleroi and other towns along the Monongahelo river are more or less familiar with the baseball pools, which are conducted throughout the baseball season.

FEAST OF PASSOVER CELEBRATION STARTS

At noon the Jewish Easter, known as the Feast of the Passover began. The observance continues for eight days during which time no bread is eaten except that which is unleavened. The feast is in commemoration of the exodus of the Israelites from the land of the Egyptians. Those who take part in the opening ceremonies of the week are required to drink four cups of wine in commemoration of the four promises made by Jehovah to deliver Israel.

During the week devout Jews are careful to eliminate all traces of leavened bread. Only matzos are eaten and new dishes used. Appropriate services are held in the synagogues.

and miners set out in pursuit. District Attorney R. G. Miller was notified of the killing by telephone and detailed County Detective William G. McCleary on the case. He will direct the work of the first posse and probably will organize another.

According to the miners who were in the same room where Bartmelo was killed the two men had engaged in a verbal quarrel, presumably over Patrick's attention to the dead man's wife. When the quarrel was at its height, Bartmelo turned back to his work as if anxious to end the spat, when Patrick is said to have whipped out his revolver and fired three shots into the stooping man's back.

GIVES REASONS FOR OLD SITE

Disinterested Expert States Why Brownsville Bridge Location Should be Same

Several prominent business men of Brownsville who might approximately be termed, non-factionists, secured the services of a non-resident and disinterested engineer to make a report upon the local bridge situation. Following is the report which John Ross, of Morgantown, a civil engineer of recognized standing submitted:

In the interest of the taxpayers of the counties of Fayette and Washington and in particular in the interests of the citizens of Brownsville, South Brownsville and West Brownsville, after examination of available plans and personal investigation of proposed sites, for a new structure to replace the bridge lately removed, across the Monongahela at Brownsville, I wish to report what in my opinion is the most suitable location.

The site of the former bridge is the most feasable one for the location of the proposed new structure, considering:

1. With relation to established business of the counties and towns.
2. Cost of sub-structure, bridge and approaches.
3. Beauty of structure.
4. Damages.

By way of explanation I append the following:

1. "With relation to established business of the counties and towns." This site was established in 1833 as a private business enterprise and as such has been a success. With the location the bridge has answered all the requirements of the National Pike and in so doing the needs of the State and counties. The three towns are of further growth.

Business centres in the three towns have been determined by this location. The railroads have located their passenger and freight stations on the assumption that present travel and traffic conditions continue. Travel and traffic cannot be so well accommodated by any other location. Incoming and outgoing travel and traffic enter and leave the three towns with great facility under present arrangements. These could not otherwise be served with equal ease and with the same mutual advantage to travel and residents.

Business and residence values in the three towns are good and have been established by the present line of travel between the counties and towns. I therefore conclude that the location of the former bridge was based on good business judgment since it has admirably served the State, counties and towns from 1833 to and including the present.

A PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICAN
Not a "Straddler"
CANDIDATE FOR ASSEMBLY
DR. JOHN B. DONALDSON
OF CANONSBURG

After doing some canvassing in the county I have made up my mind that this is no year to even attempt a "straddle" on any question. The people are asking questions and will not be put off.

The only crime I am charged with is that I have not always voted straight. What a lot of criminals there must be in Washington county, and there is going to be more I fear, if things are not changed.

In submiting my name as a Progressive Republican candidate I have been asked what I consider a Progresive Republican. Above all he is against boss rule. He is against all kinds of secret conferences and political scheming. He favors the open primary that all the people may voice their preference on every party nominee. He is neither a populist nor populistic, but he is for a government where the people rule, not only in name but in fact.

The Republican party in Washington county has enough such voters in it to do this if they will but turn out and vote and well do the bosses know this.

The Progressive has come to stay, and if he does not win this year, will be found on the job next year, or until better political conditions exist, and the political boss is eliminated.

To such along with those who believe we should have local option and are especially interested in that subject, I submit my candidacy.

I will be pleased to answer any questions submitted by those interested, by mail, telephone or personally.

ANTICIPATE BUT FOUR DAYS' MINE SUSPENSION

Miners of District to Vote on Wage Scale Wednesday

50,000 MEN AFFECTED

Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company Employs Most

Miners of the Pittsburg district will probably return to work on Thursday after a three days' suspension due to some delay in getting matters adjusted relative to the new wage scale. On Wednesday mine workers of the district will reconvene at Pittsburg, when a referendum vote will be received on the wage scale proposed by the scale committee last week at Cleveland. There is no doubt but that the scale which calls for a five per cent advance will be adopted.

Approximately 50,000 miners in the district are idle today pending the wage adjustment. They are classified as follows:

Employes of Pittsburg Coal Company, 18,000; Pittsburg-Buffalo Company, 4,000; Vesta Coal Company, 3,000; Carnegie Coal Company, 2,000; Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, 15,000; Pittsburg and Westmoreland Coal Company, 5,000; other companies 3,000.

President Feehan said: "The advance in wages means $1 a ton for mining coal in the Pittsburg district. Drivers and other skilled workers get an increase from $2.70 to $2.84 a day. Corresponding increases are granted all other classes of labor. Such a settlement was a great surprise to us. We thought the best that could be hoped for was a reaffirmation of the present wage scale."

The suspension will provide a rest for the miners, who have been working steadily for many weeks with no let up. According to Presidenet Feehan the referendum vote will be a mere formality, indications being that the new agreement will be adopted almost unanimously.

In the Monongahela valley there are between 5,000 and 8,000 men who are affected by the increase.

MINERS CELEBRATE EIGHT-HOUR DAY

Miners along the valley are celebrating quietly the eight hour day today. Only at Brownsville is there any formal celebration and miners of various places have asembled there for the day.

Early this morning from up river and down river miners began to arrive in Charleroi. There was no celebration arranged for this town, but it seems to be a favorite gathering place. The miners are happy over the advance of five per cent in wages offered them.

Four Cars Derailed.

Four coal cars were derailed at Eighth street Saturday noon, it is said at the switching point. The north bound track was tied up for a while, but the trouble did not interfere much with traffic. It took about four hours to get the track in shape.

Feehan is Re-elected

Unofficial Announcement Made of Return to Chair of District Leader

Unofficially, it has been announced that President Francis Feehan has been elected to the presidency of the Pittsburg district, United Mine Workers. The district mine workers began their convention Saturday, and will take up the convention work again on Wednesday. Michael Halapy is the only opponent to Feehan in the district, and though it was claimed he carried well throughout the district, it is asserted that he lacks sufficient votes to elect. Van Bittner has been re-elected vice president and Robert Wood of Blythedale elected secretary-treasurer, defeating "Tim" Donovan of Hazzard.

Solemn services will be held various days of this week throughout a number of the churches, commemorative of the events leading up to the death and resurrection of the Savior. Sunday was celebrated generally as Palm Sunday and particularly in the Catholic churches were held elaborate services. Palm branches were distributed and the passion was read.

Thursday, which is known as Maundy Thursday in the church calendar, preceding the day on which Christ gave up his life, there will be services at St. Jerome's Catholic church. Maundy or Holy Thursday commemorates the institution of the blessed sacrament. High mass will be solemnized at 8 o'clock. A part of the ceremony will be the procession to the altar. On this day two particles or hosts will be consecrated one of which will be placed in the Altar of Repository and used at the services on Good Friday morning. The entire day will be given over to solemn observances and at 8 o'clock there will be a sermon in the church.

Good Friday, which marks the anniversary of the Saviour's death on the cross will be celebrated by the mass of the presantctified. On Good Friday it is the custom in all the Catholic churches to publicly pray for all people, because it was on this day that Christ died for all. The unveiling of the cross and adoration by the people will also be a ceremony.

Holy Saturday morning at 7 o'clock will occur the blessing of the Paschal candle and the blessing of the Baptismal Water typifying the

WARRANT SHOULD READ JUNE, NOT JULY

Mistake Discovered in New School Code--State Superintendent Schaeffer Sends Out Notification

The school board of Charleroi and other towns and cities have been notified by State Superintendent Nathan C. Schaeffer that the warrant given to the collectors of taxes should read that settlement must be made the first day of June instead of July, as is printed in the new school code. The error in the printing of the code was discovered by G. Hay Kain, attorney for the School Board of York.

The new legislation requires that in every district of the second, third, and fourth class of this commonwealth the collector of school taxes, shall fully account for and pay over to the treasurer of the school boards the total amount of taxes appearing upon the duplicates furnished to him on or before the first day of June in each year, less such amount as he may be exonerated from by the directors and also less such amount of unpaid taxes as is assessed and levied upon real property in said school district upon which is no personal property out of which such school taxes might have been or could have been collected.

DEATH TAKES COL. A. H. ANDERSON

Popular Soldier and Business Man Summoned After Month's Couragous Battle With Ravaging Disease

Col. A. H. Anderson.

Col. Alexander Hopkins Anderson, aged 45, a member of Gov. J. K. Tener's staff, and one of the best known men of Washington county died at his home at Anderson Saturday night at 10:30 o'clock after a month's illness. His illness started with inflammatory rheumatism and later pneumonia and other complications developed. It was thought he had pased the critical period and was on his way to recovery. Saturday night his heart gave way and physicians were unable to revive him from the tiring strain. The funeral is being held this afternoon at the late home. Full military honors will be paid to the late veteran. The firing squad of Company H. Tenth Regiment will attend. County officials and friends of the dead officer will be present. Many are in attendance from Charleroi, where "Hop" was decidedly popular. Interment will be in the Finleyville cemetery.

Word was received from Harrisburg last night that Governor John K. Tener would be unable to be present at the funeral of Col. Anderson. Memebers of his staff will attend however.

A. Hopkins Anderson was the son of Dr. D. M. Anderson, of Anderson, who was at various periods a gold miner of California, a flour mill manager in Chili, assistant surgeon in the 12th regiment troopers, United States army during the Civil war, coal operator, Legislator and farmer. A. H. Anderson received his common school education at a country school, later took a four year course in Trinity Hall, Washington, and then entered Trinity college, Hartford, where he graduated with the degree of master of arts. Studying law in a Pittsburg law office and taking a course at the Columbia Law school, New York city, he began the practice of law in Pittsburg.

In 1898 Mr. Anderson joined the recruits of the famous Tenth regiment for the Philippine campaign. Under Col. James E. Barnett he was in the San Francisco and Honolulu camps, and joined the command at Manila.

Though his health was badly affected by the climate and he lost 70 pounds in weight, he remained right on the firing line until the regiment was relieved after the Malolos campaign. His popularity with the soldier boys was evidenced by his election a year ago to the place of commander-in-chief of the Army of the Philippines, the only instance where such an honor has been conferred on a private. In addition to this Mr. Anderson was a member of the Sons of the American Revolution of the Loyol Legion, the Sons of Veterans, the Army of the Cumberland of Camp Hunt and McKinley Post, American Veterans of Foreign Service.

In a business way he organized and was president of the First National bank of Finleyville, and was also president of the First National bank of Castle Shannon and of the Castle Shannon Savings and Trust company. His wide business experience, his knowledge of the value of investments, his legal training and financial connections made him desirable as a member of corporate boards, and he held many such positions. He was president of the Record Publishing company, which publishes the Washington Record.

He was, like his father, actively interested in politics, first in local primaries, then in the county convention and as a member of the county committee, and later in state wide affairs. In 1906, when he was a candidate for the state senate in the Washington-Greene county district, and the conferees were divided and the matter went to the state committe, and W. S. Parker, of Washington, as referee, voted for D. S. Walton of Greene county, Mr. Anderson remained loyal to the ticket and worked for it. Again in 1910 Mr. Anderson sought the same office and secured the nomination over John W. Hallam, of Washington a widely known contractor. The Democratic and Keystone parties combined on J. Carter Judson, a Washington attorney and he won out by the small plurality of 92 votes in the district.

Mr. Anderson possessed a fine library and devoted considerable time to study and research. Few outside his close friends knew he found pleasure in linguistic studies and that he enjoyed the diversions of reading the New Testment in the original Greek and in comparing that original with the translations into German, French Spanish and Italian.

MINER IS HELD UP AND SHOT

Thugs Waylay John Kotzer at Meadowlands--No Clue

VICTIM IN HOSPITAL

John Kotzer, a prominent miner of Arden, was held up and shot by two masked men on the road leading from Meadowlands to Manifold Saturday night about 12 o'clock. He is now lying at the point of death in the hospital at Washington.

At the time of the holdup, Kotzer, who is checkweighman at the Arden mine, was driving two brothers named Fagin to their home at Manifold in a buggy. At a lonely point on the road two masked men jumped up in front of the buggy, sized the horse's head and demanded that the occupants hold up their hands. They began firing, and Kotzer was shot through the chest. The Fagin brothers leaped from the buggy and made their escape to their home at Manifold.

For some reason the highwaymen did not attempt to rob their victim, who bleeding and badly wounded, remained in the buggy and the horse walked on and stopped at some miners' house, further on where Kotzer was cared for and later sent to the Washington hospital. An alarm was given and search is being made for the bandits.

NEW MEETING PLACE FOR THE CHORAL CLUB

Owing to a congregational meeting at the First Presbyterian church, a change was made necessary in the place for holding the weekly rehearsal tonight of the Charleroi Choral Club. The rehearsal will be held at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church at the usual hour. The effort to get additional singers is still being continued.

Gov. J. K. Tener Declares War on Baseball Gambling

IS FAMILIAR CONDITION

Practise Growing Throughout State to Alarming Extent--May Urge New Laws

Pool selling and betting generally on baseball will be stopped in Pennsylvania if the influence of the State administration upon county and local authorities can bring it about. Gov. John K. Tener, himself a former professional baseball player and one of the most ardent fans in the State, has declared war on baseball pools.

Gov. Tener thinks that the State laws offer ample authority for the suppression of betting if officials will only act as strictly as do the officers inside of baseball grounds. If they do not the Governor will urge the passage of a bill to remedy any defects to be found in the statutes and to make stringent penalties apply to pool selling on baseball. He is of the opinion that one thing which tended to bring racing into disrepute was betting and pool selling, and if he can help it he is not going to allow the national game to suffer in the same way.

It is the belief of the Governor, who in the very first months of his administration, drove from his office men who came to sound him about the chances of getting through racing and pool selling bills during his term of office, that gambling on games, scores or innings should be discouraged by true lovers of the game and that officials should lend the aid of the law.

Baseball men over the country, including officials of the Pittsburg baseball club, were much pleased when they learned that Gov Tener had declared war upon pools. Charleroi and other towns along the Monongahelo river are more or less familiar with the baseball pools, which were conducted throughout the baseball season.

FEAST OF PASSOVER CELEBRATION STARTS

At noon the Jewish Easter, known as the Feast of the Passover, began. The observance continues one week during which time no bread is eaten except that which is unleavened. The feast is in commemoration of the exodus of the Israelites from the land of the Egyptians. Those who take part in the opening ceremonies of the week are required to drink four cups of wine in commemoration of the four promises made by Jehovah to deliver Israel from bondage.

During the week devout Hebrews are careful to eliminate any trace of leavened bread. Special dishes are eaten and new linens are used. Appropriate services are held in the synagogues.

A TYPICAL CITIZEN.

The career of Col. A. H. Anderson, whose untimely death at his home at Anderson causes genuine sorrow among his many friends in this community, is that of the ideal American citizen who prepares and equips himself to face every emergency and meet every requirement within the province of good citizenship. A country bred boy, he took advantage of the excellent educational advantages afforded by the Commonwealth to equip himself for a higher education, which he attained, and entered into the profession of law. In the midst of this preparation came the call of his country for soldiers to uphold the honor and integrity of the nation, and Mr. Anderson was among the first to respond. He served in the foreign legion in the Philippines, doing his duty faithfully and bravely as a private soldier, and returned to pick up the broken thread of preparation for his life work, where it had been severed when his country needed defenders to promote the gospel of civil liberty and humanity in lands beyond the seas.

All this Mr. Anderson did without ostentation or acclaim, and when he had entered upon the practice of his profession he did not neglect his civic duties as so many professional men do in the pursuit of wealth and distinction. He took an active interest in politics, in which he was an example and inspiration to the young men of his community. As in his military career he was content to serve in the ranks of the workers for the common good, until in the course of time his talents and usefulness were recognized, and he was called by his party to stand for a higher position where his ability and energy would be more productive in his service for the public good. That he was defeated was due to the exegencies of politics rather than the superior attainments of his opponent, but he was still on the firing line and in splendid position for advancement when death cut short his promising career.

The greatest tribute that can be paid to Col. Anderson is that he was a manly man. Modest, unassuming, generous to a fault, he was ever ready to help a friend or render his assistance publicly or privately for the benefit of his fellowmen. His kindly disposition especially endeared him to his friends, and his ever ready resources made him a particularly valuable man in his sphere of action. He will be sadly missed not only in his family circle, but in the wide radius of public affairs in which he held a commanding position. He was the ideal type of an American citizen and the community suffers a distinct loss by his untimely death.

SENDING PEOPLE TO JAIL.

A new sociological question has been developed by a writer in the current number of the American Magazine. This is the question of "jail science," the gentle art of commiting men, women and children to jail—an occupation or profession which keps a large number of men constantly employed. The sociological side of this question is discussed by the writer who says:

"There are between three thousand and four thousand men in the country today holding official positions whose sole business every day of their lives is to send people to jail. I mean the prosecuting attorneys.

"And there are two thousand to three thousand men whose sole business it is to co-operate in sending men to jail. I mean the criminal judges. And these five thousand or six thousand men are every day sending men to jail without, for the most part, any conception of the science of sending men to jail. They not only do not know that science but most of them do not know there is a science, and when you speak of it to them they do not care.

"Now Professor Wigmore is not a sensationalist. He is one of the foremost academic jurists of the country. He is president of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology, which is the one learned body in this field that America can boast. His statement, though strikingly bold, was carefully considered. It was addressed to a serious body of men and women; and it was accepted, promptly and emphatically, as a correct statement of existing conditions. I feel safe, therefore, in building upon it.

"Every year these judges and prosecuting attorneys imprison, in carefree fashion, enough men, women and boys to depopulate a city as great as Boston or Pittsburg. They put these creatures away and promptly forget them. The rest of us never think of them. And yet it must be plain to any thinking mind that in a society as closely knit as ours is today you cannot put away a half million human beings every year and forget them. One need be no sentimentalist to hold that 'We are members one of another'— in a sense as real and literal as ever St. Paul meant these words; for, after all these people do not stay in prison, forever. All but a handful of 'lifers—some five thousand, more or less—sooner or later find their way back to us, their lives touching ours at many points, unseen and unsuspected. If the prison has broken them it is we who pay the bill in the end."

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Here is another Erasmus Wilson story related by the "Quiet Observer" of the Pittsburg Gazette Times during his visit in Charleroi dast week, when he lectured in the Christian church:

"I was attending a reunion of the Army of the Cumberland in the South," said Mr. Wilson, who is a Civil War veteran and marched "with Sheman from Alanta to the Sea," "and driving along with a friend over one of the old battlefields, we met a native driving a team of mules. That looks like a 'Johnnie,' I said, and I'm going to hail him. So when we met I called out:

"'Hello, Johnnie!'

"'Why, howdy, Yank," he replied.

"We both alighted and shook hands.

"'Whar did you-all fight?' he asked.

"'Over there at Chatham hill.'

"'Why, I was thar myself, and I don't see how so big a mark as you-all ever got through without me shooting, you.'

"We chatted affably a while, and the Johnnie urged me to stay over with him for a day or two, and said he would drop everything and drive me over all the old fighting grounds, but my time was limited, and I had to decline the hospitable invitation, and he said:

"'Wal, I'm mighty glad to have met you-all Yank, but I'm ashamed to think how so big a man as you-all ever got by me in a fight without getting shot, for I had a mighty good gun and was a good shot them days.'"

It is stated that some political boomers got out 5,000 buttons in the interest of Speaker Champ Clark, the Missourian. Big red and blue buttons they were, and nicely lettered on the front were these words:

"You've got to stop kicking my dog around."

Clark's political friends didn't like it. They said no real Ozark mountaineer ever used such cultured high school language, so they ordered 5,000 more buttons with the real, original words of the famous houn' dog song, thus:

"You gotta stop kickin' my dawg aroun."

Now Speaker Clark's secretary caustiely remarks that it's a wonder they didn't have the buttons read thiswise:

"You must desist from propelling my canine about with violent motions of the pedal extremities."

WHY TRAVEL FOR THIS?

Many people travel to far distant points for a change of climate to build up their strength.

Now what does this change of climate do for them? Usually if it does any good at all, its effect is to make them eat more.

But if you need more strength and can't afford the time and expense of travel you need not be discouraged.

A. M. Sturz of Bronx Borough, N. Y., suffered from weak, tender lungs and almost continual headaches for over two months. In a letter she says: "Since I have been taking Vinol, the symptoms of lung trouble have disappeared and I have no more headaches. Vinol has built me up and made me feel even much better than I did before this trouble came on."

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil, builds you up by making you eat more and digest better. It enriches the blood with tonic iron at the same time. Try Vinol. If it does not benefit you we will give back your money. Piper Bros., Druggists, Charleroi, Pa.

Greatest Thing in Life.

Neither rich furniture, nor abundance of gold, nor a descent from an illustrious family, nor greatness of authority, nor eloquence and all the charms of speaking, can produce so great a serenity of life as a mind free from guilt, kept untainted, not only from actions, but purposes, that is wicked.—Plutarch.

For Assembly

James W. Walker

James W. Walker of West Pike Run Township is a Candidate for the nomination for Representative in the General Assembly on the Republican ticket, at the coming primary election.

"Mr. Walker is a young man of excellent character and education and is well qualified to represent the people in this important position."

He promises, if nominated and elected, to advocate the use of his best efforts to secure legislation for the benefit of the people of this county and state as a whole.

Deserves Another Term.

Representative J. Hampton Moore, who is well known in many different sections of the country on account of his active interest in waterway improvements in discussing the administration of President Taft has this to say:

"President Taft ought to be renominated and elected because he stands for stability He should be nominated because it has been generally conceded by Republicans since the first day he entered the office that the same treatment would be accorded him with respect to a second term that is usually accorded to Republican presidents who have done well. There is no good party excuse for not nominating him He should be elected because, while not a political president in the sense that he has played politics to the satisfaction of all elements of his party, he has in fact been a broad gauge president, conservative in all matters affecting the dignity of the office and the obligations assumed by him to sustain and uphold the constitution and the laws of this country."

Taft's Efforts For Peace.

Honesty of intention, stability of purpose and a firm faith in the principles of the party of Lincoln, Grant and McKinley are some of the characteristics of President Taft. Familiar with the horrors of war, as well as the enormous expense that it always entails, independent of the vast expenditures required to keep a great nation upon a constant war footing, the president has persistently sought to promote a worldwide peace of nations by international agreement. Any failure of accomplishment in furthering this worthy cause cannot be charged to the president.

TOO REMARKABLE TO FALL

Ruined Old Barn Set Mose an Example and He Proceeded to Get Well.

In their first walk of the season at Wobrook-in-the-Hills the judge and his wife stopped at the Bartons' to inquire for Mose, who was reported to have been "more'n common ailin', 'long back." They found Mrs. Barton in the garden, weeding.

"Yes, he was awful bad all last winter," she said, gradually rising, and straightening up. "First he had grippe, an' that left his heart weak, an' 'long toward March his liver kind o' got out o' whack. Then Mose sent for doctor, an' he called it 'complication o' diseases.'

"'You're a sick man,' says doctor.

"'I know that,' says Mose, 'thout you're tellin' me!' You know his way? 'But this complication, 's you call it, is what stumps me. I guess I'd better get well'—an' he did!"

"Suthin' in that, eh, squire?" said Mose, suddenly appearing from behind the house.

"Much!" asserted the judge.

"Didn't find my argyment in a book, same as you would, squire," Mose continued. "Got it up on the hills, from the old Collin's barn—'member it?"

"I should say I did!" said the judge, smiling reminiscently; "roofless, practically and open on all sides!"

"But kep' a-standin' for nigh thutty year 'cause it was so ramshackle it didn't know which way to fall. My case exactly!" declared Mose Marton, with a twinkle.—Youth's Companion.

Success Won Early.

Decisive success often is won early in life by stage folk. Dion Boucicault was famous at nineteen as the author of "London Assurance." Nat Goodwin's renown as a mimic was widespread before he was twenty; Edward E. Rice had but turned his majority when he scored with "Evangeline;" Edna Wallace Hopper was in short skirts when she first became an idol of Broadway; George W. Lederer, at the height of his acclaim as a musical comedy producer at the New York Casino was but twenty-seven, and Richard Carle was a full-fledged comedy star at twenty-six.

Salt a Luxury.

In some parts of Africa children will eat salt in preference to sugar. On the gold coast a handful of salt will purchase two slaves.

Enough of That.

A man is never old enough to know enough not to marry a girl who is young enough to be his granddaughter.

Swiss English always seems designed to round off the scenery with the touch of humor. For years the best in the writer's collection has been an inscription by a path leading to a waterfall near Mairingen, which explained that a toll was necessary for "the fondation and untertaining" of that path. Until last month, however, there was nothing quite equal to the Strasburg cathedral notice: "Express interdiction to circulate during divine service. Beadle have to preserve order." But Switzerland has at least tied with Germany now in the collection. In a certain Oberland valley, too unspoiled yet to be given away by name, there is a series of gates which bear a short request in Oberland German to the wayfarer to close them. And twice it is translated into English "Shut up!"—London Chronicle

Life's Penalties.

And if any toil or pleasure or reputation or the loss of it be laid upon thee, remember that now is the contest, there is no deferring any longer and that in a single day, and in a single trial ground is to be lost or gained.—Epictetus.

Strange.

Mr. Marrynew (a little crossly)—This soup, Agnes, doesn't seem to taste much like turtle. Mrs. Marrynew—I don't see why, John, I let the turtle swim around in the kettle until the water was nearly hot enough to scald the poor little thing!—Puck.

Women are inconsistent, we know; but what about the man who slaves the greater part of his life to make fifty million dollars, and then acquires an ambition to die poor?

A Blind Baroness.

A short time ago the Baroness von Kranischfeld (Miriam Gardner) an English woman, died in Bucharest. The baroness, who was one of the queen of Roumania's personal friends, was writing a poem one day when a mist suddenly spread over her eyes, and she thus became, in her fiftieth year, totally blind. In spite of her age, however, the baroness attended an English school to learn the alphabet and the use of the typewriter, and in the end triumphed over her affliction to the extent of being able to make her own clothes and hats without any aid whatever.

No Cause fo Diffidence.

Eve—Are you a bashful man?

Adam—I'm not certain, but there is no reason why a man should be afraid to look his own rib in the eye.

New Russian Oil Region.

While Baku is known as the great oil producing province of Russia, and its wells have produced immense quantities, its reputation bids fair to be overshadowed by the new region, the Saliany Steppe. Saliany is about 125 miles distant from the city of Baku, on the shore of the Caspian sea, at the mouth of the Kura, the largest river in the Caucasus. Its position is a commanding one, both for supplying the European and eastern market. The petroleum deposits in the Saliany steppe have been known for years, but only recently has attention been attracted thereto. The possibilities are very great.

Pomades and Hair Oils.

Some people have such dry hair that they are obliged to use pomades to prevent it from breaking off.

The use of liquid vaseline is highly recommended.

Inferior pomatums cause or hasten the loss of hair. Therefore, unless you can procure the very best from a well-known druggist, prepare them yourself.

The grease and the oils which are used, to be preserved from growing rancid, must go through a suitable process. Put in a brain-marie 200 grams of fat or marrow, with six grams of powdered benzoin and six grams of pulverized balm of tolu. Stir constantly with a wooden spatula. After two hours of hard boiling, strain through a bit of linen. Benzoic acid possesses the quality of preventing the fat to which it has been added from becoming rancid.

REV. L. V. JONES MAKES STATEMENT

To the Editor of the Charleroi Mail:

Sir—Please permit me to say that on last Saturday evening, while peacefully and quietly attending to my evening duties, a strange alarm came to my door through the columns of your valuable paper. On investigating the cause I found one, J. C. Taulton, pastor of the First Baptist church of Donora, Pa., without, who has long been in darkness, and now comes seeking light upon the subject of baptism. A further investigation proved the Brother to be not well qualified, duly nor truly prepared. He is of full age, however, without a proper voucher.

I therefore leave the Brother to grovel on in darkness. But for the benefit of the Reverend Gentleman I will say that I am anticipating preaching a series of sermons upon the subject to better prepare my people against the inquisitive and uninformed, beginning Sunday evening, April 21. So, if it is light that he mostly desires, and will come of his own free will and accord and listen diligently to these discourses, I will gladly lead him into the full light of the subject, about which he is so much concerned.

Respectfuly,
L. V. Jones.

FREE IF IT FAILS

Your Money Back if You are Not Satisfied With the Medicine We Recommend.

We are so positive that our remedy will permanently relieve constipation no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine at our expense should it fail to produce satisfactory results.

It is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Laxatives or cathartics do much harm. They cause a reaction, irritate, and weaken the bowels and tend to make constipation more chronic. Besides, their use becomes a habit that is dangerous.

Constipation is caused by a weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or descending colon. To expect permanent relief you must therefore tone up and strengthen these organs and restore them to healthier activity.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our recommendation. They are exceedingly pleasant to take, being eaten like candy, and are ideal for children, delicate persons and old folks as well as for the robust. They act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They apparently have a neutral action on other associate organs or glands. They do not purge, cause excessive looseness, nor create any inconvenience whatever. They may be taken at any time, day or night. They will positively relieve chronic or habitual constipation, if not of surgical variety and the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments, if taken with regularity for a reasonable length of time. 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Sold in Charleroi only at our store—The Rexall Store. Carroll's Drug Store, 623 Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi.

ANTICIPATE BUT FOUR DAYS' MINE SUSPENSION

Miners of District to Vote on Wage Scale Wednesday

50,000 MEN AFFECTED

Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company Employs Most

Miners of the Pittsburg district will probably return to work on Thursday after a three days' suspension due to some delay in getting matters adjusted relative to the new wage scale. On Wednesday mine workers of the district will reconvene at Pittsburg, when a referendum vote will be received on the wage scale proposed by the scale committee last week at Cleveland. There is no doubt but that the scale which calls for a five per cent advance will be adopted.

Approximately 50,000 miners in the district are idle today pending the wage adjustment. They are classified as follows:

Employes of Pittsburg Coal Company, 18,000; Pittsburg-Buffalo Company, 4,000; Vesta Coal Company, 3,000; Carnegie Coal Company, 2,000; Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, 15,000; Pittsburg and Westmoreland Coal Company, 5,000; other companies 8,000.

President Feehan said: "The advance in wages means $1 a ton for mining coal in the Pittsburg district. Drivers and other skilled workers get an increase from $2.70 to $2.84 a day. Corresponding increases are granted all other classes of labor. Such a settlement was a great surprise to us. We thought the best that could be hoped for was a reaffirmation of the present wage scale."

The suspension will provide a rest for the miners, who have been working steadily for many weeks with no let up. According to President Feehan the referendum vote will be a mere formality, indications being that the new agreement will be adopted almost unanimously.

In the Monongahela valley there are between 5,000 and 8,000 men who are affected by the increase.

MINERS CELEBRATE EIGHT-HOUR DAY

Miners along the valley are celebrating quietly the eight hour day today. Only at Brownsville is there any formal celebration and miners of various places have asembled there for the day.

Early this morning from up river and down river miners beganto arrive in Charleroi. There was no celebration arranged for this town, but it seems to be a favorite gathering place. The miners are happy over the advance of five per cent in wages offered them.

Four Cars Derailed.

Four coal cars were derailed at Eighth street Saturday noon, it is said at the switching point. The north bound track was tied up for a while, but the trouble did not interfere much with traffic. It took about four hours to get the track in shape.

Feehan is Re-elected

Unofficial Announcement Made of Return to Chair of District Leader

Unofficially, it has been announced that President Francis Feehan has been elected to the presidency of the Pittsburg district, United Mine Workers. The district mine workers began their convention Saturday, and will take up the convention work again on Wednesday. Michael Halapy is the only opponent to Feehan in the district, and though it was claimed he carried well throughout the district, it is asserted that he lacks sufficient votes to elect. Van Bittner has been re-elected vice president and Robert Wood of Blythedale elected secretary-treasurer, defeating "Tim" Donovan of Hazzard.

ARRANGE SERVICES FOR WEEK

Churches to Especially Observe Anniversary Events

SOLEMN CEREMONIES

Solemn services will be held various days of this week throughout a number of the churches, commemorative of the events leading up to the death and resurrection of the Savior. Sunday was celebrated generally as Palm Sunday and particularly in the Catholic churches were held elaborate services. Palm branches were distributed and the passion was read.

Thursday which is known as Maundy Thursday in the church calendar, preceding the day on which Christ gave up his life, there will be services at St. Jerome's Catholic church. Maundy or Holy Thursday commemorates the institution of the blessed sacrament. High mass will be solemnized at 8 o'clock. A part of the ceremony will be the procession to the altar. On this day two particles or hosts will be consecrated one of which will be placed in the Altar of Repository and used at the services on Good Friday morning. The entire day will be given over to solemn observances and at 8 o'clock there will be a sermon in the church.

Good Friday, which marks the anniversary of the Saviour's death on the cross will be celebrated by the mass of the presantctified. On Good Friday it is the custom in all the Catholic churches to publicly pray for all people, because it was on this day that Christ died for all. The unveiling of the cross and adoration by the people will also be a ceremony.

Holy Saturday morning at 7 o'clock will occur the blessing of the Paschal candle and the blessing of the Baptismal Water typifying the

WARRANT SHOULD READ JUNE, NOT JULY

Mistake Discovered in New School Code—State Superintendent Schaeffer Sends Out Notification

The school board of Charleroi and other towns and cities have been notified by State Superintendent Nathan C. Schaeffer that the warrant given to the collectors of taxes should read that settlement must be made the first day of June instead of July, as is printed in the new school code.

The error in the printing of the code was discovered by G. Hay Kain, attorney for the School Board of York.

The new legislation requires that in every district of the second, third, and fourth class of this commonwealth the collector of school taxes, shall fully account for and pay over to the treasurer of the school boards the total amount of taxes appearing upon the duplicates furnished to him on or before the first day of June in each year, less such amount as he may be exonerated from by the [illegible] of unpaid taxes as is assessed and levied upon real property in said school district upon which is no personal property out of which such school taxes might have been or could have been collected.

DEATH TAKES COL. A. H. ANDERSON

Popular Soldier and Business Man Summoned After Month's Courageous Battle With Ravaging Disease

Col. A. H. Anderson.

Col. Alexander Hopkins Anderson, aged 45, a member of Gov. J. K. Tener's staff, and one of the best known men of Washington county died at his home at Anderson Saturday night at 10:30 o'clock after a month's illness. His illness started with inflammatory rheumatism and later pneumonia and other complications developed. It was thought he had pased the critical period and was on his way to recovery. Saturday night his heart gave way and physicians were unable to revive him from the tiring strain. The funeral is being held this afternoon at the late home. Full military honors will be paid to the late veteran. The firing squad of Company H. Tenth Regiment will attend. County officials and friends of the dead officer will be present. Many are in attendance from Charleroi, where "Hop" was decidedly popular. Interment will be in the Finleyville cemetery.

Word was received from Harrisburg last night that Governor John K. Tener would be unable to be present at the funeral of Col. Anderson. Memebers of his staff will attend however.

A. Hopkins Anderson was the son of Dr. D. M. Anderson, of Anderson, who was at various periods a gold miner of California, a flour mill manager in Chili, assistant surgeon in the 12th regiment troopers, United States army during the Civil war, coal operator, Legislator and farmer. A. H. Anderson reveived his common school education at a country school, later took a four year course in Trinity Hall, Washington, and then entered Trinity college, Hartford, where he graduated with the degree of master of arts. Studying law in a Pittsburg law office and taking a course at the Columbia Law school, New York city, he began the practice of law in Pittsburg.

In 1898 Mr. Anderson joined the recruits of the famous Tench regiment for the Philippine campaign. Under Col. James E. Barnett he was in the San Francisco and Honolulu camps, and joined the command at Manila.

Though his health was badly affected by the climate and he lost 70 pounds in weight, he remained right on the firing line until the regiment was relieved after the Malolos campaign. His popularity with the soldier boys was evidenced by his election a year ago to the place of commander-in-chief of the Army of the Philppines, the only instance where such an honor has been conferred on a private. In addition to this Mr. Anderson was a member of the Sons of the American Revolution of the Loyol Legion, the Sons of Veterans, the Army of the Cumberland of Camp Hunt and McKinley Post, American Veterans of Foreign Service.

In a business way he organized and was president of the First National bank of Finleyville, and was also president of the First National bank of Castle Shannon and of the Castle Shannon Savings and Trust company. His wide business experience, his knowledge of the value of investments, his legal training and financial connections made him desirable as a member of corporate boards, and he held many such positions. He was president of the Record Publishing company, which publishes the Washington Record.

He was, like his father, actively interested in politics, first in local primaries, then in the county convention and as a member of the county committee, and later in state wide affairs. In 1906, when he was a candidate for the state senate in the Washington-Greene county district, and the conferees were divided and the matter went to the state committe, and W. S. Parker, of Washington, as referee, voted for D. S. Walton of Greene county, Mr. Anderson remained loyal to the ticket and worked for it. Again in 1910 Mr. Anderson sought the same office and secured the nomination over John W. Hallam, of Washington a widely known contractor. The Democratic and Keystone parties combined on J. Carter Judson, a Washington attorney and he won out by the small plurality of 92 votes in the district.

Mr. Anderson possessed a fine library and devoted considerable time to study and research. Few outside his close friends knew he found pleasure in linguistic studies and that he enjoyed the diversions of reading the New Testment in the original Greek and in comparing that original with the translations into German, French Spanish and Italian.

MINER IS HELD UP AND SHOT

Thugs Waylay John Kolzer at Meadowlands--No Clue

VICTIM IN HOSPITAL

John Kotzer, a prominent miner of Arden, was held up and shot by two masked men on the road leading from Meadowlands to Manifold Saturday night about 12 o'clock. He is now lying at the point of death in the hospital at Washington.

At the time of the holdup, Kotzer, who is checkweighman at the Arden mine, was driving two brothers named Fagin to their home at Manifold in a buggy. At a lonely point on the road two masked men jumped up in front of the buggy, sized the horse's head and demanded that the occupants hold up their hands. They began firing, and Kotzer was shot through the chest. The Fagin brothers leaped from the buggy and made their escape to their home at Manifold.

For some reason the highwaymen did not attempt to rob their victim, who bleeding and badly wounded, remained in the buggy and the horse walked on and stopped at some miners' house, further on where Kotzer was cared for and later sent to the Washington hospital. An alarm was given and search is being made for the bandits.

NEW MEETING PLACE FOR THE CHORAL CLUB

The rehearsal will be held at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church at the usual hour. The effort to get additional singers is still being continued.

Gov. J. K. Tener Declares War on Baseball Gambling

IS FAMILIAR CONDITION

Practice Growing Throughout State to Alarming Extent--May Urge New Laws

Pool selling and betting generally on baseball will be stopped in Pennsylvania if the influence of the State administration upon county and local authorities can bring it about. Gov. John K. Tener, himself a former professional baseball player and one of the most ardent fans in the State, has declared war on baseball pools.

Gov. Tener thinks that the State laws offer ample authority for the suppression of betting if officials will only act as strictly as do the officers inside of baseball grounds. If they do not the Governor will urge the passage of a bill to remedy any defects to be found in the statutes and to make stringent penalties apply to pool selling on baseball. He is of the opinion that one thing which tended to bring racing into disrepute was betting and pool selling, and if he can help it he is not going to allow the national game to suffer in the same way.

It is the belief of the Governor, who in the very first months of his administration, drove from his office men who came to sound him about the chances of getting through racing and pool selling bills during his term of office, that gambling on games, scores or innings should be discouraged by true lovers of the game and that officials should lend the aid of the law.

Baseball men over the country, including officials of the Pittsburg baseball club, were much pleased when they learned that Gov Tener had declared war upon pools. Charleroi and other towns along the Monongahelo river are more or less familiar with the baseball pools, which were conducted throughout the baseball season.

FEAST OF PASSOVER CELEBRATION STARTS

At noon the Jewish Easter, known as the Feast of the Passover, began. The observance continues one week during which time no bread is eaten except that which is unleavened. The feast is in commemoration of the exodus of the Israelites from the land of the Egyptians. Those who take part in the opening ceremonies of the week are required to drink four cups of wine in commemoration of the four promises made by Jehovah to deliver Israel from bondage.

During the week devout Hebrews are careful to eliminate any traces of leavened bread. Special dishes are eaten and new linens are used. Appropriate services are held in the synagogues.

A TYPICAL CITIZEN.

The career of Col. A. H. Anderson, whose untimely death at his home at Anderson causes genuine sorrow among his many friends in this community, is that of the ideal American citizen who prepares and equips himself to face every emergency and meet every requirement within the province of good citizenship. A country bred boy, he took advantage of the excellent educational advantages afforded by the Commonwealth to equip himself for a higher education, which he attained, and entered into the profession of law. In the midst of this preparation came the call of his country for soldiers to uphold the honor and integrity of the nation, and Mr. Anderson was among the first to respond. He served in the foreign legion in the Philippines, doing his duty faithfully and bravely as a private soldier, and returned to pick up the broken thread of preparation for his life work, where it had been severed when his country needed defenders to promote the gospel of civil liberty and humanity in lands beyond the seas.

All this Mr. Anderson did without ostentation or acclaim, and when he had entered upon the practice of his profession he did not neglect his civic duties as so many professional men do in the pursuit of wealth and distinction. He took an active interest in politics, in which he was an example and inspiration to the young men of his community. As in his military career he was content to serve in the ranks of the workers for the common good, until in the course of time his talents and usefulness were recognized, and he was called by his party to stand for a higher position where his ability and energy would be more productive in his service for the public good. That he was defeated was due to the exegencies of politics rather than the superior attainments of his opponent, but he was still on the firing line and in splendid position for advancement when death cut short his promising career.

The greatest tribute that can be paid to Col. Anderson is that he was a manly man. Modest, unassuming, genuine to a fault, he was ever ready to help a friend or render his assistance publicly or privately for the benefit of his fellowmen. His kindly disposition especially endeared him to his friends, and his ever ready resources made him a particularly valuable man in his sphere of action. He will be sadly missed not only in his family circle, but in the wide radius of public affairs in which he held a commanding position He was the ideal type of an American citizen and the community suffers a distinct loss by his untimely death.

SENDING PEOPLE TO JAIL.

A new sociological question has been developed by a writer in the current number of the American Magazine. This is the question of "jail science," the gentle art of committing men, women and children to jail—an occupation or profession which keps a large number of men constantly employed. The sociological side of this question is discussed by the writer who says.

"There are between three thousand and four thousand men in the country today holding official positions whose sole business every day of their lives is to send people to jail. I mean the prosecuting attorneys

"And there are two thousand to three thousand men whose sole business it is to co-operate in sending men to jail. I mean the criminal judges. And these five thousand or six thousand men are every day sending men to jail without, for the most part, any conception of the science of sending men to jail. They not only do not know that science but most of them do not know there is a science, and when you speak of it to them they do not care.

"Now Professor Wigmore is not a sensationalist. He is one of the foremost academic jurists of the country. He is president of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology, which is the one learned body in this field that America can boast. His statement, though strikingly bold, was carefully considered. It was addressed to a serious body of men and women; and it was accepted, promptly and emphatically, as a correct statement of existing conditions. I feel safe, therefore, in building upon it.

"Every year these judges and prosecuting attorneys imprison, in carefree fashion, enough men, women and boys to depopulate a city as great as Boston or Pittsburg. They put these creatures away and promptly forget them. The rest of us never think of them. And yet it must be plain to any thinking mind that in a society as closely knit as ours is today you cannot put away a half million human beings every year and forget them. One need be no sentimentalist to hold that 'We are members one of another'— in a sense as real and literal as ever St. Paul meant these words; for, after all these people do not stay in prison, forever. All but a handful of lifers—some five thousand, more or less—sooner or later find their way back to us, their lives touching ours at many points, unseen and unsuspected. If the prison has broken them it is we who pay the bill in the end."

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Here is another Erasmus Wilson story related by the "Quiet Observer" of the Pittsburg Gazette Times during his visit in Charleroi last week, when he lectured in the Christian church:

"I was attending a reunion of the Army of the Cumberland in the South," said Mr. Wilson, who is a Civil War veteran and marched "with Sheman from Alanta to the Sea," "and driving along with a friend over one of the old battlefields, we met a native driving a team of mules. That looks like a 'Johnnie," I said, and I'm going to hail him. So when we met I called out:

"'Hello, Johnnie!'

"'Why, howdy, Yank," he replied.

"We both alighted and shook hands

"'Whar did you-all fight?' he asked.

"'Over there at Chatham hill.'

"'Why, I was thar myself, and I don't see how so big a mark as you-all ever got through without me shooting you.'

"We chatted affably a while, and the Johnnie urged me to stay ove. with him for a day or two, and said he would drop everything and drive me over all the old fighting grounds, but my time was limited, and I had to decline the hospitable invitation, and he said:

"'Wal, I'm mighty glad to have met you-all Yank, but I'm ashamed to think how so big a man as you-all ever got by me in a fight without getting shot, for I had a mighty good gun and was a good shot them days'"

It is stated that some political boomers got out 5,000 buttons in the interest of Speaker Champ Clark, the Missourian. Big red and blue buttons they were, and nicely lettered on the front were these words:

"You've got to stop kicking my dog around."

Clark's political friends didn't like it. They said no real Ozark mountaineer ever used such cultured high school language, so they ordered 5,000 more buttons with the real, original words of the famous houn' dog song, thus:

"You gotta stop kickin' my dawg aroun."

Now Speaker Clark's secretary caustiely remarks that it's a wonder they didn't have the buttons read thiswise:

"You must desist from propelling my canine about with violent motions of the pedal extremities."

Greatest Thing In Life.

Neither rich furniture, nor abundance of gold, nor a descent from an illustrious family, nor greatness of authority, nor eloquence and all the charms of speaking, can produce so great a serenity of life as a mind free from guilt, kept untainted, not only from actions, but purposes, that has wicked.—Plutarch.

For Assembly

James W. Walker

James W. Walker of West Pike Run Township is a Candidate for the nomination for Representative in the General Assembly on the Republican ticket, at the coming primary election.

"Mr. Walker is a young man of excellent character and education and is well qualified to represent the people in this important position."

He promises, if nominated and elected, to advocate the use of his best efforts to secure legislation for the benefit of the people of this county and State as a whole.

Deserves Another Term.

Representative J. Hampton Moore, who is well known in many different sections of the country on account of his active interest in waterway improvements, in discussing the administration of President Taft has this to say:

"President Taft ought to be renominated and elected because he stands for stability He should be nominated because it has been generally conceded by Republicans since the first day he entered the office that the same treatment would be accorded him with respect to a second term that is usually accorded to Republican presidents who have done well. There is no good party excuse for not nominating him He should be elected because, while not a political president in the sense that he has played politics to the satisfaction of all elements of his party, he has in fact been a broad gauge president conservative in all matters affecting the dignity of the office and the obligations assumed by him to sustain and uphold the constitution and the laws of this country."

Taft's Efforts For Peace.

Honesty of intention, stability of purpose and a firm faith in the principles of the party of Lincoln, Grant and McKinley are some of the characteristics of President Taft. Familiar with the horrors of war, as well as the enormous expense that it always entails, independent of the vast expenditures required to keep a great nation upon a constant war footing, the president has persistently sought to promote a worldwide peace of nations by international agreement. Any failure of accomplishment in furthering this worthy cause cannot be charged to the president.

TOO REMARKABLE TO FALL

Ruined Old Barn Set Mose an Example and He Proceeded to Get Well.

In their first walk of the season at Wobrook-in-the-Hills the judge and his wife stopped at the Bartons' to inquire for Mose, who was reported to have been "more'n common allin', 'long back." They found Mrs. Barton in the garden, weeding.

"Yes, he was awful bad all last winter," she said, gradually rising, and straightening up. "First he had grippe, an' that left his heart weak, an' 'long toward March his liver kind o' got out o' whack. Then Mose sent for doctor, an' he called it 'complication o' diseases.'

"'You're a sick man,' says doctor.

"'I know that,' says Mose, 'thout you're tellin' me!' You know his way? But this complication, 's you call it, is what stumps me. I guess I'd better get well'—an' he did!"

"Suthin' in that, eh, squire?" said Mose, suddenly appearing from behind the house.

"Much!" asserted the judge.

"Didn't find my argyment in a book, same as you would, squire," Mose continued. "Got it up on the hills, from the old Collin's barn—'member it?"

"I should say I did!" said the judge, smiling reminiscently; "roofless, practically and open on all sides!"

"But kep' a-standin' for nigh thutty year 'cause it was so ramshackle it didn't know which way to fall. My case exactly!" declared Mose Marton, with a twinkle.—Youth's Companion.

Success Won Early.

Decisive success often is won early in life by stage folk. Dion Boucicault was famous at nineteen as the author of "London Assurance," Nat Goodwin's renown as a mimic was widespread before he was twenty; Edward E. Rice had but turned his majority when he scored with "Evangeline;" Edna Wallace Hopper was in short skirts when she first became an idol of Broadway; George W. Lederer, at the height of his acclaim as a musical comedy producer at the New York Casino was but twenty-seven, and Richard Carle was a full-fledged comedy star at twenty-six.

Salt a Luxury.

In some parts of Africa children will eat salt in preference to sugar. On the gold coast a handful of salt will purchase two slaves.

Enough of That.

A man is never old enough to know enough not to marry a girl who is young enough to be his granddaughter.

Swiss English always seems designed to round off the scenery with the touch of humor. For years the best in the writer's collection has been an inscription by a path leading to a waterfall near Meiringen, which explained that a toll was necessary for "the fondation and untertaining" of that path. Until last month, however, there was nothing quite equal to the Strasburg cathedral notice: "Express interdiction to circulate during divine service. Beadle have to preserve order." But Switzerland has at least tied with Germany now in the collection. In a certain Oberland valley, too unspoiled yet to be given away by name, there is a series of gates which bear a short request in Oberland German to the wayfarer to close them. And twice it is translated into English "Shut up!"—London Chronicle

Life's Penalties.

And if any toil or pleasure or reputation or the loss of it be laid upon thee, remember that now is the contest, there is no deferring any longer and that in a single day, and in a single trial ground is to be lost or gained.—Epictetus.

Strange.

Mr. Marrynew (a little crossly)—This soup, Agnes, doesn't seem to taste much like turtle. Mrs. Marrynew—I don't see why, John, I let the turtle swim around in the kettle until the water was nearly hot enough to scald the poor little thing!—Puck.

Blessed is the lawyer, for while the family scrappeth over the inheritance, he merrily spendeth the same.

Women are inconsistent, we know; but what about the man who slaves the greater part of his life to make fifty million dollars, and then acquires an ambition to die poor?

A Blind Baroness.

A short time ago the Baroness von Kranischfeld (Miriam Gardner) an English woman, died in Bucharest. The baroness, who was one of the queen of Roumania's personal friends, was writing a poem one day when a mist suddenly spread over her eyes, and she thus became, in her fiftieth year, totally blind. In spite of her age, however, the baroness attended an English school to learn the alphabet and the use of the typewriter, and in the end triumphed over her affliction to the extent of being able to make her own clothes and hats without any aid whatever.

No Cause for Diffidence.

Eve—Are you a bashful man?

Adam—I'm not certain, but there is no reason why a man should be afraid to look his own rib in the eye.

New Russian Oil Region.

While Baku is known as the great oil producing province of Russia, and its wells have produced immense quantities, its reputation bids fair to be overshadowed by the new region, the Saliany Steppe. Saliany is about 125 miles distant from the city of Baku, on the shore of the Caspian sea, at the mouth of the Kura, the largest river in the Caucasus. Its position is a commanding one, both for supplying the European and eastern market. The petroleum deposits in the Saliany steppe have been known for years, but only recently has attention been attracted thereto. The possibilities are very great.

Pomades and Hair Oils.

Some people have such dry hair that they are obliged to use pomades to prevent it from breaking off.

The use of liquid vaseline is highly recommended.

Inferior pomatums cause or hasten the loss of hair. Therefore, unless you can procure the very best from a well-known druggist, prepare them yourself.

The grease and the oils which are used, to be preserved from growing rancid, must go through a suitable process. Put in a brain-marie 200 grams of fat or marrow, with six grams of powdered benzoin and six grams of pulverized balm of tolu. Stir constantly with a wooden spatula. After two hours of hard boiling, strain through a bit of linen. Benzoic acid possesses the quality of preventing the fat to which it has been added from becoming rancid.

REV. L. V. JONES MAKES STATEMENT

To the Editor of the Charleroi Mail:

Sir—Please permit me to say that on last Saturday evening, while peacefully and quietly attending to my evening duties, a strange alarm came to my door through the columns of your valuable paper. On investigating the cause I found one, J C Taulton, pastor of the First Baptist church of Donora, Pa., without, who has long been in darkness, and now comes seeking light upon the subject of baptism A further investigation proved the Brother to be not well qualified, duly nor truly prepared. He is of full age, however, without a proper voucher.

I therefore leave the Brother to grovel on in darkness But for the benefit of the Reverend Gentleman I will say that I am anticipating preaching a series of sermons upon the subject to better prepare my people against the inquisitive and unnformed, beginning Sunday evening, April 21. So, if it is light that he mostly desires, and will come of his own free will and accord and listen diligently to these discourses, I will gladly lead him into the full light of the subject, about which he is so much concerned.

Respectfully,
L. V. Jones.
Pastor of A. M. E. Church, Charleroi, Pa.

FREE IF IT FAILS

Your Money Back if You are Not Satisfied With the Medicine We Recommend

We are so positive that our remedy will permanently relieve constipation no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine at our expense should it fail to produce satisfactory results.

It is worse than useless ta attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Laxatives or cathartics do much harm. They cause a reaction, irritate, and weaken the bowels and tend to make constipation more chronic. Besides, their use becomes a habit that is dangerous

Constipation is caused by a weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or descending colon. To expect permanent relief you must therefore tone up and strengthen these organs and restore them to healthier activity.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our recommendation. They are exceedingly pleasant to take, being eaten like candy, and are ideal for children, delicate persons and old folks as well as for the robust. They act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels They apparently have a neutral action on other associate organs or glands. They do not purge, cause excessive looseness, nor create any inconvenience whatever. They may be taken at any time, day or night. They will positively relieve chronic or habitual constipation, is not of surgical variety and the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments, if taken with regularity for a reasonable length of time. 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Sold in Charleroi only at our store—The Rexall Store. Carroll's Drug Store, 623 Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi.
